I have a headache.

Doctor: Are you sure it's not just stress?

I: No, it's not just stress. It's more like a physical pain.

Doctor: Let me check your vitals.

I: Okay, I'll do anything to make this go away.

Doctor: Your blood pressure is a bit high.

I: I'm sure it's nothing.

Doctor: I'll prescribe some medication.

I: Thank you. I really hope it helps.

Doctor: Take it twice a day. It should start working in a few hours.

I: Alright, I'll take it immediately.

Doctor: If the pain persists, come back.

I: I will.

Doctor: Also, try to get some rest and stay hydrated.

I: I'll do that. Thanks again.

Doctor: Your blood pressure is now normal.

I: That's a relief.

Doctor: Remember to take the medication regularly.

I: I will. Thanks.

Doctor: Good luck!

MR. KILDUFF: This afternoon?

Q. Everything?

MR. KILDUFF: Yes.

Q. Including the press plan?

MR. KILDUFF: Yes.

Q. Do you expect the President to Washington?

MR. KILDUFF: Yes.

MR. STINSON: Julian Reade will have reports for you.

MR. KILDUFF: I will go down and provide additional information for you now, and it will take approximately 10 minutes.
